

5. SENSITIVE AND CONTEXTUAL ARCHITECTURE

The design of the lodges, buildings, infrastructure and facilities will be directed to present a consistent visual language and identity to the site. Being within and a part of The Normanhurst Estate will feel unique and bespoke to this specific site in East Sussex.

The materiality and finishes of the buildings will draw inspiration from the wooded backdrop. Being built from timber and clad in locally referenced materials will situate the Architecture as being part of its context.

- 1 Central Welcome Centre and shop facility
- 2 Hillside Lodges which will occupy the more steeply sloping areas of the site
- 3 Small scale lodges will be arranged in social groups of 3, 4 or 5 to allow extended families or groups of friends to holiday together
- 4 Woodland Lodges are designed to be narrow with a small footprint to slot into gaps within the woodland
